

Dana Horochowski
(Feb 12, 1965; 4:00pm; Sault Ste Marie, CAN; Lon:
084W20'00" Lat: 46N31'00";)

Moon in Cancer

Your senses reflect with extreme accuracy the impressions presented to you. They sink into your mind and dissolve completely in it, but sometimes there is little tendency to act upon the information received. The mind is meditative. You have a love of home and parents. Natural affection, gentle, peaceful and romantic and very sensitive to impressions. A passive position that makes you easily influenced by those with whom you come into contact. You are extremely warm-hearted and affectionate in your relationships and the affection is enduring.

Jupiter in Aries

This combination makes you a militant. A strong inclination to the study of science, literature or religion. A pioneer or innovator, with a very positive and material outlook on subjects which are accepted by the majority of people with passive reverence. Your religious instincts convert into ambition. It gives an ability to manage large enterprises or organizations, self-confidence and a desire to be at the head of undertakings.

Uranus in Leo

Fierceness and subtlety alternate in your mode of action. There is danger to the life of the individual, and the person may die before their occult powers have time to manifest. There is never anything half-hearted about the feelings people have about you. Your temperament inspires the most amazing extremes of attraction and repulsion from others. This position confers unique power in some obscure direction.

Mars in Virgo

This position of Virgo makes the person quite cold blooded and real warmth of heart is denied. Not exactly a great lover, but the will is extremely strong. Women with this fixation are generally passionless.

Neptune in Libra

These people are idealistic, humanitarian, and with strong convictions of the rights and the welfare of mankind. It is a position of high purposes and fine spiritual ideals. This position gives an impulse to creative idealism in art, music, literature, philosophy and social reform. This position inclines to a genuine but often uncertain and at times impractical idealism. Impractical from the common man's point of view, not theirs.

Your early life was probably unhappy by the abnormal conditions prevailing in the home. Solitude will have provided much attraction. There will have been little inclination for the company of other children. Your imagination and dreams were probably strange creatures from another world, and dreams were fascinating but frightful also. No fear of being left in the dark. You would have felt that when your parents left you on your own, you were free to take up your individual life the way you wanted to. If people had attempted to disillusion you, this would have resulted in serious mental damage. You may enjoy solitary lonely walks in deserted places at night.

Death in this instance occurs far from home in strange places and under extraordinary conditions. Inheritances, if any, may come about smoothly or contested on all sorts of flimsy grounds and partial loss may be expected. You may be tricked into dealings involving real estate, building or mining. They may seem clear on the surface, but there will be hidden disadvantages which only appear later when the mischief is done. Old age would be somewhat lonely. You will outlive those near and dear to you.

Venus in Aquarius

A strong tendency to development of the affections on humanitarian lines. No domesticity or great intensity of passion. The plane of affection is mostly spiritual and mental. The religious and humanitarian instincts often take the place of those natural to the great masses of humanity. (eg Jesus of Nazareth, Newton and Nostradamus). Their extremely ideal intentions may sometimes lead to misfortune, no blame is to be attached to such good people. Their intentions are idealistic. You are clear sighted and most of the time feel that you have not got what you really want.

Venus in this position tends to arouse unreasonable jealousy in the marriage partner. Attracted intellectually to a stranger on a first meeting, a person under this influence may treat him or her as an intimate friend. The husband or wife fails to realize that this means nothing. It is because love with such people is entirely divorced from physical considerations that this happens. They are extraordinarily constant, unselfish and sincere in love. Having given themselves unreservedly on the physical plane to one person, they regard the matter as closed, but naturally see no reason why that should interfere with a warm intellectual friendship.

Venus in Aquarius gives extraordinary power to divine character, with excellent diagnostic abilities. Aquarius is so spiritual a sign that its action is always likely to cause the native to perceive the transcendental reality beneath the mask of form. You tend to see things not so much as they are, but as they will be. The ties of blood are not important to people with this position, but they base their actions upon the real necessity of the situation instead of upon mere traditional sentimentality. They do not allow themselves to be swayed by the mob. There is seriousness and excellence in this position.

Mercury in Aquarius

This position tends itself to science and humanitarianism. Its interests are not earthbound and selfish. The faculty of concentration is admirable and the mind is ingenious, resourceful and logical. This sign gives a very pronounced tendency to investigations into the occult.

Sun in Aquarius

Aquarius people have a peculiar and sometimes rather disconcerting look of the eyes, as though the knowledge behind them were almost uncanny to the average person. A strong constitution, but liable to sudden attacks of illness which usually affect the nerve. The disposition is kind and generous. Aquarius people cannot bear to see others suffer, and make great sacrifices in order to relieve them. Your vision enables you to see too far ahead into the future of consequences to make your advice seem justified at the immediate moment. As a powerful visionary you may not live to see your plans executed.

You are superior to your environment and surroundings do not limit you as they would most people. Disappointment does not turn you from any plan once your mind is firmly made up to prosecute it. Intuition is abnormally strong, truth is recognized with great ease, and in conjunction with this goes very remarkable psychic power. You make an ideal consultant, however you are modest and unassuming.

You do not make friends quickly, but once made there is no doubt about your loyalty. However you are not easily approached on the physical plane as your bonds of attachment are mental. Thus your circle is never likely to be conventional. You feel happy that you are fulfilling your destiny by helping others. The greatest danger to health is apt to come through neglect of the physical attributes of the body. There is danger of high blood pressure in the later years. However due to your deep subjective knowledge you do not abuse your body, even though you may be unmindful of it, and consequently general health is never seriously impaired.

Saturn in Aquarius

This position gives power and good fortune especially in connection with associations or public affairs. There is an instinct for mysticism and occultism. This combination gives deep penetrating insight into the mind, and an isolation, which coupled with the normal persistency of Saturn, promises a great philosophic scholar.

Gemini North Node in the 3rd House

Due to past incarnations where your position was to be the absolute authority on 'Truth', you have a tendency to do more talking than listening. You spent a great deal of your life in monasteries and religious environments without much interacting with others. Therefore, in this life, you tend to speak your mind directly and spontaneously. You sometimes avoid asking questions that could lead to a deeper understanding of what the other person is saying for fear that you may not have the 'right' answer. In this life, you have to know that it is not your responsibility to have all the answers. Your task is to be curious about people and draw them out, learn about different personalities, and understand the mental rapport of deeply understanding others. This often leads to social isolation. You have to respond by seeking more information while keeping your mind open to the facts.

Your past life was spent as a spiritual reformer. Due to this crusading spirit, you put your cause above the wants and needs of others. You thus have a difficult time accepting others without trying to reform them. This leads to frustration when people won't just put their personalities aside and dedicate themselves to the purpose at hand. In this lifetime, your goal is to learn to accept, understand and enjoy the special personalities of others, allowing for individual differences while working together towards a common goal.